CAREER COUNSELLING

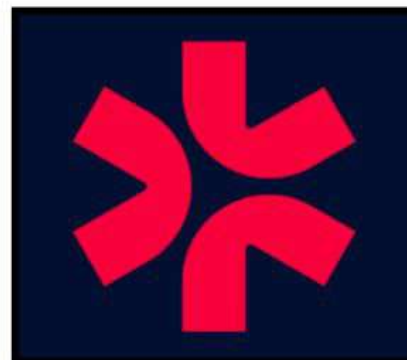

A career counseling session was held on 3rd November by Prof. Arunav Chakraborty to guide students in making informed career choices. The session focused on understanding individual interests, career planning, and the importance of skill development in today's competitive world. Students actively participated and benefited from the expert guidance shared during the interaction.

Another career counseling session was conducted on 6th November at PP Model School, Dhulaghor, Howrah, by Prof. Arunav Chakraborty and Mr. Pintu Dey. The speakers highlighted various career options after school education and emphasized choosing a career based on passion and aptitude. The session was informative and well-received by the students.

STUDYIN PROGRAMME

All first-year students attended an informative StudyIn session held at The Park Hotel, Park Street, which focused on creating awareness about opportunities for higher education abroad. The session aimed to introduce students to global academic pathways and help them understand the importance of early planning for international education.

The speakers provided detailed information on various aspects of studying abroad, including the selection of universities and courses, eligibility requirements, entrance examinations, scholarships, financial planning, and visa procedures. They emphasized the need for academic consistency, skill development, and profile building to meet international admission standards.

Students were encouraged to actively participate, and the interactive nature of the session allowed them to clarify their doubts regarding application processes, career prospects, and student life abroad. Practical guidance and real-life examples made the session engaging and easy to understand.

Overall, the StudyIn session proved to be highly beneficial and motivating for all first-year students. It broadened their perspective on global education opportunities and inspired them to explore international academic and career options with confidence and proper guidance.
