VOICE OF THE DEPARTMENT

PROF. DEBOJYOTI GHOSH
TIC, ECE DEPARTMENT

Our ECE department is currently having quite importance and has gained a lot of attention among various engineering colleges in West Bengal. ECE branch has occupied an important place in the world of technology.

There is a huge demand for ECE engineers in India, specifically in the semiconductor fabrication and solar energy sectors. Students of ECE, FIEM not only benefit from studies, but also various seminars, research work, cultural activities, that are organized here throughout the year.

Our alumni students are dealing their professional life with considerable fame in various sectors in the country and abroad. Therefore, I believe that all the students who are being trained and educated in our department will definitely be able to make their future bright.
