VOICE OF THE DEPARTMENT

PROF. (DR.) GARGI BHATTACHARYA
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering (ECE) at FIEM stands as a true symbol of excellence, earning admiration across West Bengal and beyond. In today's tech-driven world, ECE is not just a discipline—it is the core of innovation, powering breakthroughs in semiconductor technology, solar energy, and many emerging fields where opportunities continue to grow. At FIEM, ECE students don't just study; they create, explore, and transform. Through insightful seminars, practical research experiences, and diverse cultural activities, they develop into confident and versatile individuals prepared to face global challenges. Our alumni—now thriving across India and abroad—reflect the strength and impact of our department.

Equipped with strong knowledge, practical skills, and firm values, every ECE student at FIEM carries the potential to shape tomorrow's technology and leave a meaningful imprint on the world.

A Seminar on Unlock Your Global Potential: Higher Education Opportunities Beyond Borders For Engineers

MR. HIMEL GHOSH
MAIN SPEAKER
ALUMNUS OF ECE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering extends its sincere appreciation to Mr. Himel Ghosh, our distinguished alumnus and keynote speaker, for delivering an inspiring expert talk on "Unlock Your Global Potential: Higher Education Opportunities Beyond Borders for Engineers." His valuable insights, experiences, and guidance have truly motivated our students to envision a future filled with global possibilities. We sincerely thank our Principal, Dr. Anirban Chakraborty, our HOD, Prof. Anirban Mandal, and all respected faculty members and teacher-in-charges for their gracious presence and continuous support. Their collective efforts and guidance made the event a remarkable success and provided our students with an enriching and motivating experience.
